

```
#R Code to extract data for the top worst power outages days, as well as Winter Storm Uri
```

```
install.packages("data.table") # if needed
library(data.table)
```

```
1) Read data
```

```
dt <- fread("county_daily_peak_with_percent.csv", na.strings = c("", "NA"))
```

```
Ensure date is properly parsed (YYYY-MM-DD)
```

```
dt[, date := as.IDate(as.character(date), format = "%Y-%m-%d")]
```

```
2) Dates to export (use underscores for filenames, convert to dashes for matching)
```

```
date_tags <- c(
  "2020_06_11","2020_08_11","2021_02_16","2021_08_30","2021_08_11","2023_02_23",
  "2020_08_27","2020_10_10","2021_12_16","2022_08_30","2020_10_29"
)
```

```
date_map <- data.table(
  tag = date_tags,
  dval = as.IDate(gsub("_", "-", date_tags))
)
```

```
3) Loop and write one CSV per date (include all rows for the date)
```

```
for (i in seq_len(nrow(date_map))) {
  dtag <- date_map$tag[i] dval <- date_map$dval[i]
```

```
  # Subset all rows for the date
```

```
  sub <- dt[date == dval]
```

```
  # File name pattern: county_daily_peak_YYYY_MM_DD.csv
```

```
  outfile <- sprintf("county_daily_peak_%s.csv", dtag)
```

```
  fwrite(sub, outfile)
```

```
}
```